

How to Contact Your Adviser of Studies

All students are allocated an Adviser of Studies during their first week of University, Advisers are there to help you with any problems you might experience which affects your ability to study, as well as issues relating to academic progress, curriculum choices, and withdrawal.

1. Log in to MyCampus and select the Adviser Information tile from the Student Homepage.

2. This will bring you to a page that has you Adviser's contact information.

If you see a statement saying 'None Assigned' you should contact your School office in the first instance. Please see your School or College website for further details on how best to contact them. Your School or College office may also be able to assist you with your enquiry if your adviser is unavailable.
